2. Introduction

2.1. Purpose

The purpose of HomeEQ's Home Equity Line (HELOC) product is to allow qualified borrowers to borrow against their home equity for debt consolidation, home renovation, major purchases, and other personal use. HomeEQ leverages direct data feeds and automation to create a more consistent and faster decision-making process while evaluating of the Borrower's ability to repay. This Underwriting Guide defines the parameters for borrower and collateral eligibility, loan terms, credit requirements and income requirements for approval. Additional reviews, requirements or parameters for qualification are not required unless specified within the confines of the written guidelines. Exceptions are not allowed.

2.2. Usury Limits

HomeEQ complies with all applicable usury laws. If an additional draw would result in an interest charge that exceeds the applicable usury cap, HomeEQ may refuse to make the additional draw until the interest charge is less than the rate cap.

2.3. Fraud Check

HomeEQ runs Data Verify on all individual borrowers to detect and prevent fraud. If any of the High-Risk indicators are flagged, the application will be directed to the HELOC team for manual review. The application will resume once the review is completed and the fraud risk is ruled out. If fraud is confirmed, the application will be declined.

7. Salary Employment Income Requirements

7.1. Minimum Length of Employment

Wage earner income is considered stable and effective if the borrower has been employed for 12 months. A maximum 2-month gap is allowed; however, the most recent 3 months may not have a gap in income.

7.2. Salaried Income Verification

HomeEQ uses vendor-provided income verification methods to support the disclosed income on all applications. Monthly Income is derived from a 3rd party income verification source, refer to the Salaried Income Water Requirements section below for the documentation requirements. HomeEQ will utilize the lower of the stated income on the application or the calculated income based on the income documentation. Income must be stable and consistent. Income that is unlikely to continue is not allowed. For salaried income verification using a 12-month bank statement CRA report (per the Salaried Income Waterfall Requirements), HomeEQ applies the gross-up factors as outlined in Salaried Income CRA Gross-Up Factors chart. When using a 12-month verification bank statement report, the borrower must have received at least 60 days of income from their current employer, as evidenced within the bank statements used for qualifying.

During the application process, the borrower must attest that they are still employed at the same employer and at least the same level of pay.

7.3. Salaried Income Waterfall Requirements

| Income Verification Type | Income Type | Income Stability Requirements | Documentation Requirements |
|--------------------------------------|---|---|--|
| 12 Month Bank statement verification | Salaried Income: Salaried/Wage Earner, Bonus and Commission | Plaid will directly link to depository accounts to pull all transactions (savings/checking) for the past 365 days. | Plaid generates a 12-month bank statement CRA Report. The CRA report identifies and summarizes borrower income streams, including: Detailed Income Sources, Pay Frequency and Consistency. The Income calculation is based on Plaid's 12-month analysis of the stated salary categories. The gross-up factors will be applied per the Salaried Income CRA Gross-Up Factors chart. |
| Payroll Report | Salaried Income: Salaried/Wage Earner, Bonus and Commission | Plaid will link directly to the payroll provider to obtain the employment history available for the current employer. | Payroll calculations are determined by Plaid's ability to link directly to third-party payroll providers to access the most recent information: YTD Gross Income, YTD Net Income and Pay Frequency. See below for excluded payroll categories |

Salaried Income borrowers are eligible for 12-month Bank statement verification or Payroll Report income verification only.

9. Property and Collateral Requirements

9.1 Lien and Vesting Search

HomeEQ does not require a title commitment; instead, it utilizes vendor-provided publicly available data to assess current vesting status and seasoning of the vesting, land use, zoning, and any outstanding liens. The information obtained from the report is then compared to various elements within the loan, including, but not limited to, any open liens on the subject property and the applicant's information, which is reviewed for current vesting purposes based on the length of ownership.

10. Collateral Valuation

10.1. Valuation Method

HomeEQ calculates the value of the property using an Automated Valuation Model (“AVM”) Waterfall. HomeEQ must be able to determine the value of the property using our AVM.

The AVM must be ordered in the below order and receive an acceptable Forecast Standard Deviation (“FSD”) score:

- The AVM will first be ordered through CoreLogic and must have an FSD score < 0.15.
- If Corelogic cannot determine a value, then an AVM will be ordered through Clear Capital. Clear Capital must have an FSD score < 0.15

Line amounts > $250,000 require an additional AVM from a different vendor than the original AVM and must be within the FSD threshold. The 2 AVM's must be within 10% value of each other. If the AVM values are > 10%, then the HELOC will be declined.

10.2. Validity Period of AVM Waterfall

The AVM will be pulled at the start of every new application. Once the borrower consents to the hard credit pull, a new AVM will be pulled if 30 days has passed since the first pull.

Once the hard credit pull has been completed, the application will remain open for an additional 29 days. If the application is expired, the borrower will be required to restart a new application to proceed.

10.3. Disaster Areas

All properties must be verified that they are not located in an area designated as an Active FEMA declared disaster area with individual assistance prior to closing. Any property closing within 60 days of the FEMA incident end date must provide a post disaster inspection with exterior and street photos. Please note that if damage is noted, this will result in a decline for collateral.
